In New England, a typical home heating system runs more than 1,000 hours every heating season. Like any mechanical system, your heating system – even a new one – should be inspected annually. Dead River Company's SharePlus Service Plan guarantees 24-hour no-heat, emergency service from a licensed technician, as well as covers the cost of an annual heating system tune-up. With our SharePlus plan should your system need repairs, Dead River Company will split the cost with you. For example, if the repairs cost $200, you will be billed $100.
